

Cookie Statement

Last modified: March 2022

This Cookie Statement explains how GlobalPass AG, a global identity verification company, registered with the Swiss Companies Register under the company number CHE-497.420.514 (“we, us” and “GlobalPass”), uses cookies or similar technologies when you visit our website www.globalpass.ch or GlobalPass mobile app (collectively the "Site"). It explains what these technologies are and why we use them, as well as your rights to control our use of them.

What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files that are placed on your computer by websites that you visit. They are widely used in order to make websites work, or work more efficiently, as well as to provide information to the owners of the site.

Cookies are small files, typically of letters and numbers, downloaded onto your computer or mobile device when you visit certain websites. When you return to these websites, or visit other websites that use the same cookies, the websites recognize these cookies and your browsing device. A cookie cannot read data off your hard drive or read cookie files created by other websites.

Cookies set by the website operator are called "first party cookies". Cookies set by parties other than the website operator are called "third-party cookies".

Additional information on cookies and their use can be found at www.aboutcookies.org or www.allaboutcookies.org.

How does GlobalPass use cookies?

When you access our Site, we or companies we work with (third party) may place cookies on your computer or other device. These technologies help us better understand Site’s users’ behaviour and inform us about which parts of our Site users have visited.

We use first party and third-party cookies to customize our Site, content, to measure promotional effectiveness, and to collect information about your computer or other access device to mitigate risk, help prevent fraud, and promote trust and safety.

We do not control the types of information collected and stored by these third-party cookies. You should check the third-party's website for more information on how they use cookies.

Not all cookies we use collect user's personal data. The following are some examples of non-personal information that we collect and how we may use it:

- We may collect information such as your language, location, and the time zone so that we can better understand user behaviour and improve our Site;
- We may collect information regarding user activities on our Site, which is used to understand which parts of the Site are of most interest. We process this data in aggregated form and it does not allow us to identify you personally.

What types of cookies does GlobalPass use?

Strictly Necessary (Essential) Cookies

These cookies are essential because they enable you to browse our Site and use certain features. Without these cookies, some services cannot be provided. The use of such cookies does not require the user's consent. Such cookies include:

- technical cookies essential for the correct functioning of the Site and to provide the service offered and requested by the user;
- security cookies, which are used to detect authentication abuses and are associated with functionality explicitly requested by the user for a limited and permanent period of time.

Performance/Analytics Cookies

These cookies collect information about how you use our Site. For example, a performance/analytics cookie will collect information about which pages you go to most often, how much time you spend on that page, or if you get error messages from certain pages. These cookies do not gather information that identifies you. The information these cookies collect is anonymous and is only used to improve how our Site works.

Functionality Cookies

These cookies allow us to remember the choices you make and to tailor our services so we can provide relevant content to you. For example, a functionality cookie can remember your preferences (e.g., country or language selection).

How long will cookies stay on my browsing device?

The period of time a cookie will stay on your browsing device depends on whether it is a "persistent" or "session" cookie. Session cookies will only stay on your device until you stop browsing. Persistent cookies stay on your browsing device until they expire or are deleted (i.e. after you have finished browsing).

How to control cookies?

You have the right to decide whether to accept marketing and functional cookies by choosing the relevant option in our Cookies management tool available on the Site.

.You can delete all cookies on your device, clearing the browser's browsing history and thus disabling all cookies from all websites visited by you.

Learn more about cookies here or visit the following website:www.allaboutcookies.org.

Do Not Track:

Some Internet browsers - like Internet Explorer, Firefox, and Safari - include the ability to transmit "Do Not Track" or "DNT" signals. Since uniform standards for "DNT" signals have not been adopted, our websites may not currently process or respond to "DNT" signals.

Updates to this Cookie Statement

We reserve the right to amend or modify this Cookie Statement at any time in response to changes in applicable data protection and privacy legislation.

If you have any questions about our use of cookies or other technologies, please email us using the Contact Form.
